

STERN INTERVENTION BY UNITED STATES IS ONLY HOPE FOR MEXICAN PEOPLE AND OUR INTERESTS IN THE WAR-RIDDEN REPUBLIC

G. H. T. SHAW SAYS AMERICAN PEOPLE MUST ASSUME RES-PONSIBILITY THERE.

CRITICIZES STATE DEPARTMENT

Other Powers Obtain Protection and Redress for Their Subjects in Sister Republic.

That "our president errs in assuming that General Huerta is the cause or the justification of our great or-ward movement" in Mexico and that "the only permanent solution of this question and the only tangible hope for the people of Mexico lies in the stern intervention and subsequent high-minded constructive actions by the great civilized political force in the world today, the people of the United States of America," was the conclusive statement made before 20 men and women gathered at the
R. M. C. A. last night by G. H. T.
Shaw of Lee Center, who for years has been a personal advisor of former President Diaz of Mexico, and who has spent a large part of his life in the Mexican republic is thoroughly convinced with conditions there.

Mr. Shaw's address was of timely topics and he refused to handle any phase of his subject in any but a direct manner.

Wealthy Country.

Before discussing the present political conditions in Mexico and the relation of this government with those conditions, Mr. Shaw set out to correct any false beliefs his auditors might have concerning the country.
He classed Mexico as "a veritable storehouse of wealth, one mine alone having produced over $252,000,000 in silver. There is no greater mineralized country in the world and the agricultural possibilities are practically undeveloped."

American Invasion.

The American invasion of Mexico, financially speaking, said Mr. Shaw, began when President Diaz invited our people to help develop the country. The Spaniards had been taking everything out and putting nothing back for 350 years. Americans built railroads, installed modern methods of irrigation, opened the abandoned mines and developed new ones, started the manufacture of lumber, planted rubber and brought up-to-date sugar refining methods.

The results of this movement are shown in the Mexican year book that says, out of a total of 557 millions of dollars invested in the mining industry Americans own 500 millions and the Mexicans only 29 millions. The present cash value of American interests in Mexico today is over one billion dollars, while all the property of every kind owned by Mexicans is less than 800 millions.

The Mexican.

Mr. Shaw declared that the full-blooded Indian comprises about 70 per cent of the total population of Mexico, about 20 to 25 per cent are mixed blood while but 5 to 10 per cent are pure Spanish. The Mexican Indian is honest and polite and attached to his own community. He can not buy land and today he is fighting for land and freedom, the first promise of an ambitious leader being a division of the lands. The average Mexican Indian does not hate the American, but centuries of oppression have made him distrustful of foreigners, and he hates the Spaniard with every fiber of his being. The anti-American sentiment is to be found almost entirely among the middle classes, the basis being jealousy and a well conceived fear that through their failure to bring about social conditions making for a capable, self-governing people the dreaded "yankee" will do it for them.

The Priesthood.

Mr. Shaw added that the Spanish priests of Mexico were active in fostering anti-American sentiment and he expressed the belief that "if it were possible to exchange all of the Catholic clergy in Mexico for a like number from this country under the leadership of some such man as that patriotic American citizen, Archbishop O'Donnell, the whole Mexican question would be settled within thirty days."

The speaker added that before any great progress can be made in Mexico its laws must be changed, especially those which provide that a man is guilty until proven innocent, and the feature that all persons, animals or even wheeled vehicles, in any way connected with an accident must be left untouched even by medical men, until the proper police judge can be brought to "view" the situation.

Our State Department.

Mr. Shaw did not mince words in an indictment of the American state department's protective policy. He said:

"The United States supreme court decision, rendered in 1872, said that it is undoubtedly the duty of the government under the Constitution to afford protection to its citizens on the high seas or under a foreign flag.
Last summer we organized in Chicago, the Mexican Society of Chicago, whose object was to arouse our state department to the necessity of affording more help to Americans in Mexico who had suffered in person or in property. The only response secured was a departmental order ruling that any American claiming to have suffered illegally in Mexico must first exhaust all the legal resources of that country before applying to Washington for assistance. Anyone knowing what an amount of 'grease' it takes to get a case through to and acted upon by the supreme court of Mexico will know that this attitude of our state department shuts off the majority of American claimants and only operates in favor of the wealthiest individuals and strong companies.

"This is in contrast to the attitude assumed by the other powers in looking after the welfare of their subjects in Mexico. Do the American people realize that even the Chinese government secured an official action of the Mexican Congress fixing the price of $5,000 in gold to be paid in cash for the death of a Chinaman; that the English, French and German governments quickly obtain satisfaction for outrages against their countrymen?
"Claim to Be English."

"The common advice to Americans upon landing in any Latin-American port is, 'If you get into trouble, claim to be an Englishman', and American consuls have been told me of getting an obliging English consul to make affiant that some imprisoned American was an Englishman so as to secure his immediate release."

Prominent Mexicans.

Mr. Shaw devoted some time to the prominent Mexicans of today. Huerta he described as an educated Indian possessed of ability, dogged determination, great executive ability and absolute fearlessness of consequences.
The speaker, while claiming no liking for Huerta, said that "it must be admitted that thus far he has not been proven guilty of the high crimes so generally charged against him in this country."

Venustiano Carranza, Mr. Shaw described as a gentleman of the old school, a wealthy land owner, quiet and dignified, who represents the Madero family interests in the present situation.

Francisco Villa is of the Indian type. For years he was an outlaw of whom the very best that can be said is: He has plenty of native ability, has learned to read and write a little, has learned more of politics and shows a wonderful aptness in judging just the right kind of "dope" to give his friends among the American officials.

Emiliano Zapata was described as being the most tenacious and stubborn brigand in Mexico. He is all, or nearly all, Indian, would be the Aguinaldo of Mexico should the American army be called upon to bring about peaceful conditions in that country.

Our Present Problem.

The speaker described our present problem in Mexico as that "so often spoken of as the Monroe doctrine," and after a brief history of that doctrine promulgated by President Monroe, which has become the American policy. He called attention to President Wilson's utterance on March 11, 1913, that as regards our relations with the Latin-Americans we would not recognize authority attaining their places by violence or without the consent of the governor, which voice a sentiment that revolting barbarous customs and cruelties in the Latin-American republics must cease.

ENTHUSIASTIC OVER CIVIC LEAGUE PLAN

MEETING LAST NIGHT COULD HAVE BEEN LARGER—HOPE TO PUSH LEAGUE TO SUCCESS.

Because of the counter attractions Thursday evening the attendance at the meeting at the city hall to organize a Civic league here was not largely attended, and nothing definite toward the formation of an organization was accomplished. However, those present exhibited active interest in the proposition and it is likely that a large attendance which will result in steps toward the accomplishment of an organization, will mark the meeting set for a week from tonight.

At the meeting last night Miss Mathews, who is here in the interest of the state organization, explained in detail the purpose of a civic league and all who heard here are today imbued with the same enthusiasm with which she enters upon her subject so thoroughly.

Villa Will Not Agree to Stop War on Huerta During Negotiations—Still 1500 Americans in Mexico City.

(By Associated Press.)
Washington, D. C., May 1.—U. S.
Consul Canada at Vera Cruz reports to his government that there are yet 1500 Americans in Mexico City, coming from all parts of the surrounding country and arrived after the last train of refugees had departed for Vera Cruz.

Consul Canada asked the Brazilian minister at Mexico City to make extra efforts to have the railroad communication between Vera Cruz and the capital restored.

Mediators Pleased.
Washington, May 1.—After receiving a message said to have come from Huerta through the Spanish ambasador, the South American mediators entered upon a conference today with more apparent confidence than ever to bring about peaceful relations between the United States and Mexico will succeed.

Constitutionalist representatives insist that the internal dispute in Mexico between the rebels and Huerta government would not be included in the negotiations of the cessation of hostilities insisted upon in the meantime.

REPORT SIBERIA IN DISTRESS OR SUNK

PACIFIC MAIL STEAMER WITH WIFE OF GOVERNOR OF PHIL-IPPINES, MAY BE LOST.

WIRELESS CALLS HAVE CEASED

Inability of Coast Stations to Get Response Causes Grave Anxiety—Relieve Chinese Pirates May Have Worked.

(Associated Press.)
Tokio, Japan, May 1.—The Pacific mail steamer Siberia is in distress off Formosa, according to official advice from the governor general of the island. One report is that the steamer has foundered and another has her ashore six miles off the mainland. A Japanese cruiser and other vessels have been sent to the rescue but it will be six hours before they reach the scene.

The Siberia has 80 saloon passengers on board including Mrs. Francis Burton Harrison, wife of the governor general of the Philippines. The ship left Nagasaki bound for Manila on April 29. She was rated at 5655 tons.

The Siberia left San Francisco on April 7 for Manila. There were 71 steage passengers in the first cabin section and about 50 in the second; 400 steage passengers were aboard and the boat carried a crew of 200.
She was commanded by Capt. Steeder.

Wireless calls received on the Japanese coast indicate that the Siberia is in grave peril. An early wireless said "she is sinking," but a later message said that she was ashore six miles off the Island of Formosa. A dispatch from Formosa hinted that Chinese pirates may have had something to do with the disaster.

The fact that all wireless calls from the Siberia have ceased and the operators along the coast are unable to get a response from her is causing grave anxiety.

Of the first cabin passengers that left San Francisco on the Siberia, the majority of them left her at Honolulu, Yokohama, Kobe, Nagasaki or at Hongkong.

Among those on board the Siberia is Prof. Howard Long of Angola, Ind., superintendent of public instruction in one of the provinces of the Philippines; Vincent Reyes, Capt. Whitaker, wife and infant, Philippine Constabulary, Governor Egan of Batanes, Philippines and W. P. Beard, teacher, of Texas.

One Steamer There?

The British cruiser Minatara is reported to have reached the scene of the accident late this afternoon. The Siberia communicated a distress signal to that boat by wireless. The latest report is that the Siberia is ashore near Samasana Island, 15 miles from the Formosa coast. Samasana Island is flanked by rocks and the inhabitants are all Chinese.

HUERTA CONSENTS TO SUSPEND HOSTILITIES

DICTATOR AGREES TO ARMIS-TICE PENDING MEDIATION
EFFORTS OF A-B-C.

MATTER NOW UP TO CARRANZA

Answer of the Constitutionalist Chief May Upset Pacification Plans—Rebels Continue to Fight.

Washington, May 1.—Formal agreement on the part of Victoriano Huerta to suspend all hostilities pending negotiations was made known through Secretary of State Bryan.

The secretary was at the Argentine legation in conference with the mediators when the news was received. This formal agreement ratifies the understanding that has existed for two days.
There is no agreement, however, relative to the suspension of hostilities between the federal and constitutionalist forces in Mexico, that being a matter beyond Huerta's control.

News from Chihuahua that General Carranza and General Villa were pushing ahead their southward movement and preparing for a general attack upon Tampico threw a damper upon hopes for peace between the warring Mexican factions.

Secretary Bryan left the legation shortly before midnight and the three mediators continued their conference.

Problem Becomes Complex.

The complexity of the problem with which the A-B-C powers of South America are dealing is strikingly apparent. President Wilson, Huerta and Carranza, individually and severally, have accepted "in principle" the good offices of Argentina, Brazil and Chile; but the leaders of the Mexican factions view matters from such different angles that it is doubtful whether common ground for actual negotiations can be established. If common ground is found the diplomatic triumph will be one of the wonders of the age.

Carranza insists on looking at the matter of mediation as bearing on "differences between Mexico and the United States" and not having anything to do with his campaign against Huerta.
The United States makes the composing of conflicting elements in Mexico an essential in the settlement of the general conflict.

Carranza has not consented to an armistice in connection with the internal war, and it is declared that he will not do so. And diplomacy, with headquarters in Washington, is wrestling with the perturbing situation.

Add to Difficulty.

The publication of the text of the note sent by the A-B-C diplomats to Carranza, with the latter's response, has afforded a clear view of the situation so far as the constitutional revolution is concerned. It is significant that Carranza carefully avoids any reference to the Mexican internal situation in accepting the principle of mediation. This adds one difficulty to the task of the mediators.

And it is declared, as previously mentioned, that the constitutionalists absolutely will decline any proposal for a cessation of hostilities.

Two reasons are advanced by the constitutionalist agents—over whose heads the South American diplomats acted by the way in presenting their good offices to Carranza—for the refusal to cease hostilities. In the first place, it is pointed out the constitutionalist are on the eve of a successful campaign. An armistice would allow the federal troops retreating from the border in the direction of Saltillo to concentrate at that base. Delay in attacking Saltillo might be fatal.

In the second place, it is declared that if Carranza attempts to maintain his army in idleness under present conditions he would lose many of his followers who want constant action. As between the United States and Huerta the elimination of the latter still is understood to be demanded by President Wilson.

A wholly peaceful settlement, with Carranza left out of consideration for the time being, seems to rest either on the complete self-effacement of Huerta or a revision of the Washington policy with respect to the "irreducible minimum."

The war department is merely resting on arms while anxiously awaiting the outcome of attempted mediation.
A very significant action in connection with the military preparedness was that taken in the house, when Chairman Hay of the committee on military affairs offered a joint resolution making immediately available the appropriations of $101,000,000 in the army bill, which ordinarily would take effect at the beginning of the fiscal year, July 1.

U. S. Death List Increased.

Washington, May 1.—Rear Admiral Badger reported to the navy department that one unidentified dead sailor or marine and three unidentified wounded are added to casualties in the occupation of Vera Cruz. A revision of the list shows:

Wounded—Two naval officers, 51 bluejackets, 14 marines and three unidentified. This makes a total of 16 dead and 70 wounded.

In The Field of Sports

BRIEF HITS OF SPORT

If Honus Wagner has his way there will be home provided for indigent base ball players, men whose terms of usefulness are past and who are too poor to take care of themselves.

"Every active ball player in the business should be made to subscribe so much a year and in this manner the home could be established," says the Dane.

Who stole the Pirates bats?

A bizarre collection of occupations is found to take up the time of the Pirates off season. According to a list made up Gibson, Cooper, Harmon and Durry are the farmers of the team. Joe Conzelman, Ollie McArthur and Joe Leonard, are the students. There are three salesmen, two plumbers and five clerks. Hyatt is so used to butchering stock, that he butchers the ball on the diamond. Bob Coleman is a stage mechanic and George McQuillan, an electrician. Kanteher is a stenographer.

Robinson Shawkey, one of the right handers of the Philadelphia dislocated the thumb of his pitching hand in practice Monday and will probably be out of the game for several weeks.

The Benessee team, of Rochester, N. Y., are the winners of the worlds five men bowling championship in that division of the National Bowling Association. The Rochester bowlers established a new world's tournament record, with an aggregate of 3,035 pins.

Hehe's more easy money for lawyers. An injunction is sought by the Kansas City Federal league club to prevent their man Blanding from playing with any other club than theirs. The officials charge that Blanding signed a contract for three years, at a salary of $5,833 and was advanced $2,500 and then jumped to the Cleveland Americans.

Manager Plass of the Dubuque, Iowa, team of the Three Eye league, today signed a contract with Pitcher Brady of the Omaha Western club, and with the Brady of the Oskosh team of the W. I. league, last year.

Tom Seaton, of the Brooklyn Feds is the highest priced pitcher in the Federal league, and is some pitcher at that. Wednesday at Kansas City, he held the Packers to six scattered hits.

The Cub president has denied the story to the effect that every man on the Cub team, with the exception of Good and Archer, had signed a new contract, minus the ten day clause.

The Sox scoring record is now four runs in the last forty-nine innings.

Plans are now under way, whereby Peoria will land a place in the National three cushion league, with several other cities, including Milwaukee, Chicago, Minneapolis, St. Paul and St. Louis. Cash prizes $2,500 are hung up for the first three cities, and this together with the fact that each city has a chance to see the greatest exponents of the angle game in action, has made the league extremely popular and desirable.

Great interest is shown in the Interscholastic meet at Madison tomorrow, by the Northern Illinois High schools. Among the schools entered in the games Saturday, are Rockford, Freeport, La Grange, Madison, Oak Park, Evanston, Evansville, Belvidere and others. It is reported that Rockford's chances are the best.

Frank Chance is ill with la grippe. Manager Rowland of the Peoria team, has uncovered a star in Young Standish, who shows all sorts of class and wins steadily.

HEINIE ZIM

Red McGhee sez:

You've got another name, I know, but it's too doggone long to go spelled out in my box score. You're always Heinie Zim to me an' you'll be that in history, so tain't no use to roar. Your name don't matter much at that. The way you field an' swing a bat an' run around the sacks has made yer stand in cold concrete. The way the fans bow at yer feet yer knees c'd scrape their backs.

An' Heinie, you've got some physique; (I looked that there word up this week); built like a touring car. You're broad enough and plenty long, a big wheel-base — there's nothin' wrong, you'll do the way you are. An' up above these body parts you've got a top — a dome of parts, inside as well as out. Besides a garden fer yer hair, you've got a think tank full in there an' you c'n get it out.

They talk o' Cobb an' Wagner, too—ol' Mattie, Baker — Oh, well, you jus' let 'em shoot their wad. Don't let 'em bother you at all. Jus' keep on spankin' that ol' ball — don't spare yer Spalding rod. When baseball's Blue Book goes t' press you'll not be overlooked unless I'm no good as a tout. No matter if their space is slim you'll see in big type, "HEINIE ZIM." There's not a bit o' doubt.

TAKE SODA FOR ACID STOMACH, SOURNESS, GAS

A 10 grain Sodagen tablet, taken any time, followed by a glass of water will instantly neutralize acidity, absorb gases, and sweeten the stomach, thus relieving indigestion without fail. Indigestion does not result from a lack of digestive juices as most folks believe, but from an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach which retards digestion and starts fermentation. Then our meals sour like garbage in a can, forming acid fluids and gases which inflate the stomach like a toy balloon producing a heavy, lumpy feeling in the chest, we eructate sour food, belch up gas or have flatulence, heartburn or nausea.

Any pharmacist can supply a package of these 10 grain Sodagen tablets and thousands of stomach sufferers will be able to eat without dread after ridding the digestive organs of excess acid this way, says a noted authority who further states that this Antacid is entirely harmless, being composed of Soda, Magnesia and Calcium Carbonate U. Tuxedo

The Perfect Tobacco for Pipe and Cigarette

Tuxedo is the favorite tobacco of critical American smokers—a refined tobacco for men of refined taste. No other tobacco has ever received the endorsement of so many famous Americans—leaders in their different spheres of activity, whose judgment carries weight and commands consideration.

Tuxedo is made from the very mildest, ripest Kentucky Burley tobacco—aged until perfectly mellow. Then treated by the original "Tuxedo Process" that makes Tuxedo absolutely non-biting and decidedly throat-soothing—and develops the wonderful mildness, fragrance and flavor of the Burley leaf in a way no other tobacco has ever successfully imitated.

The handy 5c Cloth Pouch of Tuxedo fits snugly in the vest pocket, and keeps the tobacco fresh and delicious by its inner wrapping of moisture-proof paper. Especially popular with smokers who make their own fragrant Burley cigarettes from Tuxedo.

SENTENCE U. S. MAN TO DEATH AS SPY; RELEASE IS ASKED

Dr. Ryan Said to Have Refused to Translate State Department Secret Codes.

CLOSE FRIEND OF BRYAN

Immediate Freedom Demanded From Gen. Huerta by Washington Officials—Gen. Maas to Seize American Territory.

Vera Cruz, Mex., May 1.—Dr. Edward W. Ryan of Scranton, Pa., is under imminent peril of death as a spy at the city of Zacatecas. He refused to translate confidential codes of the American state department that he had in his possession.

Doctor Ryan has been sentenced to be shot by the order of General Barron, military governor of the State of Zacatecas. It has been generally understood that Doctor Ryan, while ostensibly engaged in Red Cross work, has been in reality serving the state department as a gatherer of information under special commission from Secretary of State Bryan, who is his personal friend.

American Held for Ransom.

Rebels are said to be holding for 200,000 pesos ransom Augustus B. Emery of Boston, manager of the La Fe mine at Guadalupe, near the city of Zacatecas, and Charles A. Smith, an Englishman, employed as an engineer of the mine. The property is owned in England. In attempting to extort this great sum Governor Barron is apparently working with the rebels, for the telegrams sent from Zacatecas to Mexico City demanding the ransom were passed with Barron's signature of approval. The ransom is being demanded on the plea that it will be required to support the workmen on the property while the mine is closed down on account of revolutionary troubles.

Immediate Release Is Demanded.

Washington, May 1.—Demand was made on General Huerta for a fair trial and immediate release of Dr. Edward W. Ryan by the state department, which acknowledged that he had been invaluable to the government in caring for Americans in turbulent Mexico, but which denied with emphasis that he had acted in any way as a "spy" for it.

Reports emanating from Mexico City that an American warship had bombarded Manzanillo on the Pacific coast of Mexico and that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz caused officials here considerable concern. Both reports being untrue, they feared that they might have been circulated in Mexico for the purpose of arousing resentment against Americans. The hope here is that no untoward incidents will arise to hamper the peace negotiations.

Huerta General to Seize U. S. Land.

London, May 1.—Special dispatches to a London newspaper say that newspapers of Mexico City have published reports from Saltillo that Gen. Joaquin Maas, the federal commander there, is advancing to the frontier of the United States with the intention of occupying some point on American territory as long as U. S. troops hold Vera Cruz.

Mexicans Battle on Coast.

Washington, May 1.—Federalists and constitutionalists are fighting at Mazatlan and Acapulco, according to a dispatch received here from Admiral Howard, commanding the Pacific fleet.

Admiral Howard, commander of the American naval forces on the Pacific coast, replying to inquiries from the secretary of the navy, told of the inflamation at Manzanillo and also noted that American marines had landed at Salina Cruz.

Rebels Gain Control.

Brownsville, Tex., May 1.—For the first time during the present revolution Mexican constitutionalists were in control of the entire northern frontier of Mexico, divided by the Rio Grand from Texas. The territory is 800 miles long and includes four strategic garrison towns.

U. S. Troops to Brownsville.

Washington, May 1.—Secretary Garrison is preparing to substitute federal regulars for the Texas state troops now stationed at Brownsville. Heavy demands made upon the mobile army by the border patrol and the Vera Cruz expedition probably will make it necessary to draw the force from the coast artillery.

Historian May Succeed Huerta.

New York, May 1.—A Washington dispatch to the Herald says: "Fernando Iglesias Calderon, senator and Mexico's most eminent living historian, who has just been liberated by Rear Admiral Fletcher from prison at Vera Cruz, is regarded by those who see hope in the mediation movement as the man most likely to be selected as head of any provisional or compromise government that may be set up in Mexico City."

Refugees in Doubt.

Nogales, Ariz., May 1.—Between being advised by mine owners that Secretary of State Bryan had sanctioned the return of Americans to Mexico and being warned by United States consults that they should not return under any circumstances. Americans on the border today professed to be in a quandary.

Guatemala City, May 1.—Fugitives who have crossed the Mexican frontier into Guatemala from the Mexican town of Tapachula report that riots have occurred there, during which the American flag was grossly insulted. Some of the refugees declare that attempts to massacre foreigners, regardless of nationality, were averted only by the prompt action of the Mexican military commander of Tapachula, who placed the foreigners in prison and guarded them from the mob.

Galveston Welcomes 470.

Galveston, Tex., May 1.—Galveston welcomed the 470 refugees released from quarantine on board the battleship Connecticut, which brought them here last Sunday from Vera Cruz and Tampico.

PRINCESS THEATER.

Tonight the Princess Theater will show a two reel feature, entitled, "The Coming of the Real Prince." A two part feature in which Annie dreams that she is a modern Cinderella. She awakes in time to see her sweetheart, the prince of her dreams, and thus disappoints the false prince. An unusual story product, with an exceptionally pleasing cast.

FAMILY THEATER.

Trenitt's "Military Dogs," now playing at the Family Theater, is an act that is different in every way from any act of this kind ever seen at the Family. The scene is a military camp, with all the equipment, and six black dogs, each shouldering arms, carrying a miniature gun, go through a number of military tactics, marching in single file, in two, three and six abreast, responding instantly to their commander, Mr. Trenitt. A battle takes place, and two cats, the enemies, are captured and taken to the guard-house. The act show wonderful skill on the part of their trainer and is worthy of a packed house.

Genia Rioli in popular songs and Group, "The Intrigue," "The Heart dances has a pleasing act. Pictures tonight—"The Love Broken Father," in two reels.

Cordelia Has an Unhappy Memory.

"Speaking of outrages," stated Cordelia Killjoy, "when my cousin Fossick, who used to play the concertina so affectingly, died, two ruffianly brothers in the lodge came to sit up with the body, bringing along four more of the same sort to keep them company. They tramped mud all over my clean floor and yaw-hawed in the most raw-cuss way late in the night when they thought I was asleep. Then the extra four went home, leaving the other two ruffians to entertain each other with funny stories till morning. Next day at the funeral here they came again, bringing a lot more of their ruffianly ilk, and tramped more mud all over the house. And although that was seven years ago not a word of denunciation of the outrage has been uttered to this day except what I have said!"—Kansas City Star.

YOUNG BRIDE DEFIED UNCLE SAM

Held Up Orders From Government to Her Husband—Threats of Dire Punishment were Never Fulfilled, for Instead of Being Court Marshaled She Became a Heroine.

(Associated Press.)

St. Louis, Mo., May 1.—Seventy-one years have elapsed since an eighteen-year old bride in this city played an important part in this history of the United States by intercepting and withholding important government orders. The history of at least three of states of the Pacific Coast hinges more or less upon this act of insubordination, pronounced at the time, far and wide, as high-handed, but later as justified by the exigencies of the times. The bride was Mrs. Jessie Benton Freemont, wife of John C. Freemont, the explorer and statesman, and daughter of Thomas H. Benton, for many years a United States Senator from Missouri.

Early in 1843 Freemont received from the United States government a commission to undertake the second of his noted expeditions of exploration to the Northwest, then a vast, uninhabited region, the ultimate destiny of which hung in the balance. In obedience to it, he came to St. Louis, from Washington and immediately set about outfitting his expedition, with his young wife, acting as his secretary.

It is a matter of history that during the first third of the last century there was a powerful sentiment, both in and out of Congress, against extending the dominion of the United States to the Pacific Coast. Such senators as Webster and Calhoun, were opposed to it and for the most part were able to influence Congress to their beliefs. On the other hand, Senator Benton following his first election in 1821, became a staunch advocate of western expansion and was able to command a large following, through whose efforts the various expeditions were authorized.

In outfitting his expedition, Freemont took the liberty of adding a 12-pound brass Howitzeh secured from the government arsenal at St. Louis, upon the representation that he needed it as a defense against possible hostile Indians.

News of the acquisition, it appears, was carried hastily to Washington, where the announcement created something of a sensation in government circles. The element not especially friendly to the expedition declared that the taking of canon into foreign or neutral territory constituted an act of hostility which might involve the government in grave eventualities. This view appears to have been shared by the head of the Topographical Bureau, under whose direction the explorations were being made, for he straightway dispatched sealed orders to Freemont, in St. Louis, directing him to halt the expedition and report forthwith at Washington for the purpose of giving an explanation of the action.

Freemont had left St. Louis for the west in April, shortly before the arrival of those orders, Mrs. Freemont, as his secretary, being instructed to open his mail and forward by courier such documents as appeared important. He was still within easy recall, having proceeded but a short distance into what now constitutes Kansas, upon the day of the arrival of the important post.

The young Mrs. Freemont, who was thoroughly imbued with the adoration of her husband and father for western expansion, thought she discerned in the peremptory orders, a subterfuge to defeat the purpose of the expedition. For her husband to proceed to Washington, she well knew, would require weeks and make impossible any journey to the Northwest territory during that season. Senator Benton was absent; it was before the days of telegraph; she had no one with whom to counsel. Thus, beset, the young wife resolved to suppress the orders.

Summoning one of the fastest couriers at her command, Mrs. Freemont dispatched a message of love to her husband, urging him at all hazards to hasten his departure from the farthest fringe of civilization, and to pass beyond the Rocky Mountains as quickly as possible. There were hints of a reason in the message, but the reason was not given.

Thus Colonel Freemont proceeded upon a journey of months, all unconscious that his presence in Washington was daily expected.

There was another sensation in Washington when the expedient practiced by the young bride was known. It was stated that Freemont would be arrested and court-martialed as soon as the government could lay hands upon him and that his wife, also, might suffer prosecution. Nothing lame of these threats, however, and when the explorer finally did reach Washington months later, he found praise and promotion, instead of prosecution, while his secretary was regarded as something of a heroine because her part in the success of the expedition.

The Freemont party dragged that wheel-mounted cannon across the trackless mountains and plains, far to the Northwest, almost to the present site of Portland, Oregon. Returning, it was conveyed down the eastern slope of the Sierra Nevada mountains to about the point where the Central Pacific railway now surmounts that range. There, in attempting to cross into California, the expedition was caught by the snow of winter and the piece had to be abandoned. At Lake Tahoe, nearby, it rests today—silent memento of a girl's defiance of the government of the United States.

START CAMPAIGN AGAINST THE FLY

STATE OFFICIALS URGE EARLY AND VIGOROUS SWATING
OF PEST

The Illinois State Food Commissioner and superintendent of Public Instruction, Francis G. Blair, have joined in a movement to interest every school child in the state in the ever-increasingly important slogan "Swat the Fly and Swat it Early." A bulletin has been issued giving a detailed history of the development of the awful nuisance and also outlining practical instruction on the methods of riding the country of the pest. Several pages are devoted to the instruction which ends as follows:

No family should be without the fly swatter. In this day of intelligent campaign to prevent disease, the fly swatters one of the indispensable household articles that may be bought for five cents at any hardware store. It may be made by splitting a little stick of wood and inserting a small piece of wire screening 4x6 inches. Remember that a fly swatted in April is worth over a million swatted in August. If you care about your own health and the health of your children

DON'T.

1. Don't buy food from many dealer who refuses to fight the fly.
2. Don't purchase fruits or vegetables offered for sale unscreened.

BULGARIAN QUEEN TO COME DESPITE THREATS.

Queen Eleonora of Bulgaria, who intends to sail for the United States late in May, has been warned by anonymous letters not to make the trip. Nevertheless, she has determined to disregard them.

One reason for her visit will be responding to her call for arms after the recent war. Much money has been sent from the United States. While the State Department at Washington had been officially informed of the intended visit it created interest. Officials will be assigned to care for her on her arrival.

"Oh, don't fret about that," replied the young woman consolingly. "As it is under water all the time no one will notice."

PARENTAL RESPONSIBILITY.

The children of a man and his wife are their greatest treasure and can bring them more happiness than anything in life. And likewise can they bring them more sorrow and bitter disappointment than anything in life. Furthermore, when the man and his wife find themselves in the uttermost depths of the black abyss of despair and shattered dreams; when the fine sturdy boy or handsome daughter who has been the idol of their hearts and the fruit and personification of their love goes smash on the rocks of incapability, failure and even dishonor, they should not always blame their child for the sorrow brought to them. It may be that they could have warded it off themselves if they had worked a little harder, been a trifle more interested and a little less indulgent. This is not necessarily the case, but it is apt to be. Some children may be ever so wild and selfish and unruly, but their forceful natures and good instincts will right them in time, but it is a mighty dangerous chance to take to plan on that.

The place where the boy or girl gets the training that counts is home. Parental influence can do more in the moulding of the character of the child than all the school teachers in the world, though to the injury of youth, much of the character moulding is left to the hands of the teacher, usually an unmarried teacher whose head is full of the learning that the students are supposed to come for, but who is totally unfit to straighten out the impudent young cub whose presence in the school room turns the institution of learning into a three-ring circus.

The school can be a great help in character moulding if the home is working in co-operation. If the start and the moral support it not afforded in the home the teacher in the school is helpless if the student happens to be willful. The teacher can do little with the boy or girl who has not been taught at home that it is his or her duty to work in harmony with the teachers, to help them to preserve order, and to look upon school as something more than a place to fool away time.

A teacher who possesses particular ability in controlling children is fortunate and is valuable. Not always are they so gifted, however, and many a good teacher who is away above the average in knowledge has been driven from schools because he or she could not keep order. Perfect order in the school room is the first thing necessary to advancement in learning. Present day practice won't permit the use of a club. Smart Alex pupils harass the teacher and ruin the discipline. Those pupils could be controlled through home influences better than at school, for they know no drastic measures will be used on them by the faculty, but usually they have a healthy fear of "dad" when he takes a lively interest in their misdeeds.

Help the teachers, mothers and fathers, and help your own boys and girls along the right path. You owe it to the child, to yourselves and to the overworked, underpaid school teacher.

THE LAW ABOUT CLAMS.

As far as we can learn there is no law that prohibits the gathering of clams in the streams of Illinois between April first and October first. The fact that Rock river is in the fish preserve outlined by the state fish commission is the only possible chance where a construction could be put on the law that would prohibit clamming before July first, and that is a far-fetched construction.

Of course the law says that it is illegal to fish with other than a rod and line for fish in Rock river, for the reason that this stream has been set aside as a state fish preserve. Clams are shell fish. It is hardly to be supposed that they are classed as fish by that law, for it would be slow work fishing for clams with a rod and line.

At any rate, it would be a rank injustice to declare clam gathering illegal this time of year, for hundreds of men and women who spend the entire spring, summer and fall camping along the shores of the river and making their living by the gathering of clams, are settled down to work, after considerable investment in camping outfits, boats, etc. Many of them have given up other positions in order to go into the clam gathering business for the summer. We don't believe that the state commission would do so unfair an act as to slam an embargo down on clamming at this late date with no warning whatsoever.

The story probably originated in the vacant corner of some Freeport reporter's cranium.

LET'S HAVE A CLEAN-UP WEEK.

How about a clean-up week for Dixon? It is the vogue this time of year and we just must be up to snuff. We suggest that the Mayor select a date and proclaim a clean-up week. A lot of good could be done.

Even if Huerta would agree to salute the flag at Tampico now, wouldn't it be a little dangerous to give him the guns and the chance? They might be loaded with sure enough bullets and pointed our way. Let him salute with the popping of champagne corks in his cellar at home. That's right in his line, they say.

VALUABLE IMPROVEMENTS

Beautiful North Dixon, our prettiest residential district is fast having an entire new collection of modern dwellings added to its already many numerous and beautiful homes. Boyd street, especially is becoming one of the most beautiful of the city streets and is adorned with a fast increasing number of ultra-modern dwellings. Just yesterday work was begun on the future home of James Sterling, at the corner of

Boyd and Ottawa streets, which is to be one of the best built and best located residences in Dixon.

The same can be said of the residence to be erected by E. N. Howell, just west of the W. C. Durkes home, near Assembly Park.

Both gentlemen are to be congratulated upon their choice of location, as each site is ideal in its way for a home and have beautiful views of the river, spacious lawns and in fact, everything that makes for dignity and beauty in a residence.

Bleak Days

BY WALT MASON

The clouds are gray and grim today, the winds are sadly sighing; it seems like fall, and over all a sheet of gloom is lying. The dreary rain beats on the pane, and sounds a note of sorrow; but what's the odds? The genial gods will bring us joy tomorrow. We have the mumps, the doctor humps himself around to cure it; we're on the blink and often think we simply can't endure it; to all who list we groan, I wist, and tell a hard luck story; but why be vexed? Week after next we'll be all hunkdory. The neighbor folks are tiresome blokes, they bore us and annoy us; with such folks near it's amply clear that no one can be joyous; things would improve if they would move — we really do not need them; but let's be gay! They'll move away, and worse ones will succeed them. The world seems sad, sometimes, my lad, and life is a disaster; but do not roar; for every sore tomorrow brings a plaster. The fool, he kicks against the pricks, all optimism scorning; the wise man goes his way — he know joy cometh in the morning.

DURKES PRESIDENT OF THE MEN'S CLUB

ANNUAL ELECTION TOOK PLACE AT BANQUET AND MEETING AT THE Y. M. C. A.

WAS DELICIOUS BANQUET

H. A. Ahrens Was Selected as Vice President and E. T. Bailey as Secretary and Treasurer.

The annual election of officers of the Men's club of the Y. M. C. A. for the ensuing year occurred at a meeting and banquet at the association building Friday night. The address on "Mexico and Her Citizenship," a resume of which will be found elsewhere in the Telegraph was of course the feature of the evening and nearly 200 people heard it.

American flags at every plate were proudly picked up and placed in the lapel of each coat by the man who joined heartily in singing "America" before the banquet, and during the spread, served by the Ladies' Auxiliary most excellently, the M. E. Sunday school orchestra under the leadership of Walter Stott, played inspiringly. The musicians were a feature of the entertainment.

O. H. Martin presided and introduced Mr. Shaw. The following officers were elected:

President—W. C. Durkes.
Vice President—H. A. Ahrens.
Secretary and Treasurer—E. T. Bailey.

A. L. GEISENHEIMER & CO.

We Are in Mexico.

Mr. Shaw continued: "Thus far I believe President Wilson is strongly upheld by the American people in what has so often been called his 'high moral stand,' but if we question the wisdom of some of his subsequent acts we hope that it will be granted that our reflections are in the line of true patriotism and not political. There should be no politics in such questions as now confront the American nation.

"We are in Mexico. In spite of the official statement, we are in Mexico not for the sole purpose of deposing the actual president interim of that country, but to bring about peace and order in that unhappy country; to lay the foundations of stable government that not only shall protect life and property of all foreigners, but that shall also open the door of hope to the humble Mexican Indian.

"We are there because of the absolute hopelessness of the present condition of the great majority of the Mexican people; because of that fact that out of 104 years of political life Mexico has not enjoyed over 30 years of comparative peace; because of the fact that owing alone to the chaotic political conditions prevalent over practically the whole country for the last three and one-half years some 200 American citizens have been murdered and American women have suffered the unspeakable—worse than death; because, having ordered 'hands off' to the other powers of the world we cannot escape the responsibility of putting to rights an intolerable condition. I have purposely left out the financial reasons notwithstanding that the actual cash value of American interests in Mexico today are 25 per cent greater than all those owned by the Mexicans themselves.

"Our president errs in assuming that General Huerta is the cause of the present great onward movement. Nor should he have permitted his abhorrence of the action of a military usurper at the seat of government in Mexico City to lead him into the equivocal position of giving the encouragement of our moral backing to another 'man of violence' (putting it mildly, indeed) in the north. Among those who really know Mexico there is a consensus of opinion that were it possible to set up the rebel government in full power in Mexico City today the conditions of anarchy, revolution and brigandage would go unchanged. This is too evident to be set aside by any academic theories.

Our Justification.

"Our justification for taking action in Mexico lies deeper than material interests; it does not consist in a desire for territorial expansion nor for glory of conquest. The essence of the reason for our present epoch-making action is that the American people are determined that the medieval political practices, the assassination of officials, shooting of prisoners, robbing of public and private interests, etc., now masquerading under the cloak of a form of government in an adjoining state, shall cease and that with the Might of Right we will establish a comprehensive, working plan of government among the Mexican people, whereby they may immediately enjoy all the opportunities as well as guarantees of more enlightened civilization while training their children to attain a self-governing capacity. In such elements consist our justification and for such motives will history do us justice.

"The basic causes of great national movements are not the actions of one man. Fanatical old John Brown did not cause the Civil war, nor was the blowing up of the Maine the basis of our war with Spain. These actions and events are incidents crystallizing into instant movement the workings of immutable principles in world affairs.

Huerta Not the Cause.

"Our president errs in assuming that General Huerta is the cause of the present great onward movement. Nor should he have permitted his abhorrence of the action of a military usurper at the seat of government in Mexico City to lead him into the equivocal position of giving the encouragement of our moral backing to another 'man of violence' (putting it mildly, indeed) in the north. Among those who really know Mexico there is a consensus of opinion that were it possible to set up the rebel government in full power in Mexico City today the conditions of anarchy, revolution and brigandage would go unchanged. This is too evident to be set aside by any academic theories.

The Only Solution.

"The only permanent solution of this question and the only tangible hope for the people of Mexico lies in the stern intervention and subsequent high-minded constructive actions by the greatest civilized political force in the world today, the people of the United States of America."

Against right handed pitchers, Connie Mack uses six batsmen who hit left handed. Muehly, Baker, Dingley, Strunk, Collins and Shang. Such a batting order would ordinarily be considered easy picking for a south paw, but Connie does not change it very much, even when working against one of the left handed slingers. The reason for this is that several of his left handers are more deadly against left handers than are right handed men.

UNIONISM WAIVED;
OPERATORS REFUSE
TO SETTLE STRIKE

Colorado Mine Owners Declare They Will Not Treat With Any of Belligerents.

W. B. WILSON SEEKS TO AID

Secretary of Labor Names Two to Aid just Trouble—Federal Troops Arrive in Disturbed Zone and Strikers Cease Hostilities.

Denver, Colo., May 1.—Nineteen coal mine operating companies of Colorado—practically all within the state—positively refused to consider a suggestion made by Chairman M. D. Foster of the house mines committee that negotiations for a settlement of the Colorado coal mine strike be entered into upon the basis that the recognition of unions had been formally waived by the United Mine Workers of America.

This refusal was announced after a telegram which Foster had sent to John D. Rockefeller, Jr., in New York, calling upon him to settle the strike without recognizing the union, had been referred to the mining companies of this state.

Appoints Men to Settle Trouble. Washington, May 1.—W. B. Wilson, secretary of labor, announced on Thursday the appointment of William B. Fairley of Alabama, an official of the United Mine Workers, and Rywel Davies, president of the Mine Operators of Kentucky, as his official representatives in an attempt to bring about an adjustment of the mining troubles in Colorado.

Fairley and Davies are now on their way to Washington, and will leave for Colorado after they have received their instructions here.

Italy May Demand Indemnity. That Italy may ask the United States for indemnity should it be found that Italian life and property had been illegally taken or destroyed in Colorado, because of the mine strike there, was indicated when Marquis Cuatrecasas, the Italian ambassador, called at the state department.

He stated that the Italian consul at Denver had been sent to Trinidad and other mining points in Colorado to obtain a complete report of the conditions there.

Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, commenting upon the appointment of Fairley and Davies as arbitrators, said that the indignation of the Colorado miners is such that they are threatening a countrywide mine strike and that this is being avoided only by the greatest effort of the miners' executive officers.

To Probe Major's Death. Denver, Colo., May 1.—Governor Ammons reported the killing of Major Lester to the war department at Washington. Ammons asked for a thorough investigation.

The truce conference covering the Walsenburg situation, reached an agreement, both sides agreeing to stop fighting.

The truce is to remain effective until the federal troops reach Walsenburg.

U. S. Troops in Trinidad. Trinidad, Colo., May 1.—United States troops have arrived in Trinidad. Officers of the Fifth cavalry and 240 men under Major Holbrook formed the command.

The major soon after arriving proclaimed that the United States soldiers were in charge of the district. This meant that the state militia must break camp and get out of the strike zone immediately.

"The president has sent us here to carry out the provisions of his proclamation," said Major Holbrook. After issuing his proclamation Major Holbrook telegraphed the secretary of war advising him fully of conditions. He said he would not occupy the armory here unless the necessity arose.

The major announced he would communicate with the strikers immediately advising them of the federal troops' purpose here and calling upon them to maintain peace and order. The depot was crowded with strikers when the train arrived, but no arms were in evidence, and no demonstration of any sort occurred.

Strike Leaders Promise Aid.

Immediately upon the arrival of the federal troops from Fort Leavenworth at Trinidad, Major Holbrook, in command, summoned the strike leaders and told them that United States soldiers had been sent to Colorado to restore order, and advised their cooperation. The strike leaders promised to lay down their arms as quickly as possible and circumstances warranted.

Major Holbrook will occupy as many camps as possible, relieving the state troops.

Senate Asked to Act.

Washington, May 1.—Urging it was high time for the senate to take steps to stop the "monstrous proposition of Colorado mine owners arming thugs to shoot men, women and children like dogs in a kennel," Senator Martine of New Jersey addressed the senate in favor of immediate action on his bill to make it a criminal offense to employ armed guards.

Duntley

Combination Pneumatic Sweeper
Release from broom drudgery—from the strain of moving and lifting furniture and from the dangerous scattering of dust and germs that are raised by the use of the broom and the old fashioned carpet sweeper, can be attained by the use of the DUNTLEY COMBINATION PNEUMATIC SWEEPER, which, although easily operated by hand, creates powerful suction force, which draws out all the dirt and dust found in your rugs and carpets and at the same time the revolving brush picks up all lint, pins, thread, ravelings, etc.

THE DUNTLEY SWEEPERS are made in three sizes and sold under a rigid guarantee for one year. You may try a Duntley in your own home for 10 days Free of Charge.

WARD LINER IS FIRED ON

Rebels Shoot at Steamer Carrying Huerta Supplies.

Washington, May 1.—Rear Admiral Mayo at Tampico reported to the navy department that the Ward Line steamer Antilla, flying the Cuban flag, was fired upon and held up in the river there by constitutionalists, but later steamed into port under cover of fire upon the rebels from the Mexican federal gunboat Vera Cruz.

The helmsman of the Antilla was wounded by the rebel fire, and the steamer anchored, sending out wireless "S. O. S." signals. Admiral Mayo sent alongside a boat with his aids and a medical officer from the flagship Des Moines. The constitutionalist officers declared that they proposed in future to prevent any merchant vessels entering Tampico in order to keep supplies and stores from the federals.

Naval officers here said no official notice would be taken by Admiral Mayo of the Antilla incident.

THREATENS JOHN D.

Woman Asserts She Will Kill Rockefeller, Jr.

Tells Him to Stop Murders in Colorado or She Will Shoot Him Like a Dog.

New York, May 1.—While the "mourning patrol" was walking in the rain in front of 26 Broadway and Upton Sinclair, Elizabeth Freeman and Donia Leitner were starting a hunger strike in the Tombs. "Beautiful Marie" Ganz, I. W. W. orator, went up to the fourteenth floor and threatened to shoot John D. Rockefeller, Jr. If he did not end the Colorado strike war.

Miss Ganz, who was recently released from jail, made an impassioned address in Franklin square, in which she declared she would "shoot John D. Rockefeller down like a dog" if he refused to see her, and then started toward the Standard Oil offices at 26 Broadway, followed by a large crowd.
At the entrance to the building a patrolman attempted to halt her.

"Who are you to stop me?" she cried, as she brushed past, and, entering the elevator, went to the fourteenth floor, where the private offices of the oil magnate are located.

A negro doortender told her that John D. Jr. was not in. The woman was insistent.

"I'm going to see him!" she cried.
"And if the ——— doesn't arbitrate and stop the murders in Colorado I'll shoot him down like a dog!
Take my card into him or to his secretary."

The frightened doortender took the pasteboard, and five minutes later returned with the message that Mr.
Rockefeller wasn't in.

"Well, you tell him exactly what I told you," she told the door man, and he promised to repeat the "shooting" message.

Last night Mr. Rockefeller issued a statement characterizing as "infamous" any allusion to conditions in Colorado as "Rockefeller's war." The conflicts in Colorado were not between mine owners and strikers, he declared, but between strikers and the state troops. The statement contained no reference to the "free silence" protest in this city.

Sinclair, Miss Freeman and Mrs.
Leitner went to jail in preference to paying each a three-dollar fine imposed after they were convicted of disorderly conduct. They said they would go on a hunger strike. The prison officials said, however, that efforts would be made to cut any attempted hunger strike short.

DAY'S WAR DEVELOPMENTS

Mediation envoys held practically an all-day session formulating plans for arbitration between the United States, Huerta and Carranza. Difficulties of peace task increased by failure of Carranza to agree to arbitration of internal differences in Mexico.

United States and Huerta agree to armistice during the peace negotiations, but Carranza fails to do so. It is hinted by his representatives that he will not take this step.

Intimations are heard at Washington that both the Huerta and Carranza elements will send representatives to Washington to deal directly with the mediators.

Urges "Chinch Bug Day." Kansas City, Kan., May 1.—"A woman and child in Kansas who can shall bend all efforts toward eradicating the little wheat pest, was suggested by Charles M. Sawyer, state bank examiner, addressing the convention of the Kansas State Bankers' as-
